

Branches of Humanities and social sciences

Protestant Theology
Roman Catholic Theology
Christian Catholic Theology
Interdisciplinary Theology/Other

Linguistics
German Language and Literature
French Language and Literature
Italian Language and Literature
Rhaeto-Romanic Language and Literature
English Language and Literature
Other Modern European Languages
Classical European Languages
Other Non-European Languages
Interpreting and Translation
Interdisciplinary Languages and Literature/Other

Philosophy
Archaeology and Prehistory
History
History of Art
Music Studies
Theatre and Film Studies
Ethnology and Cultural Anthropology
Interdisciplinary History and Cultural Sciences/Other

Psychology
Education Studies
Special Needs Education
Sociology
Social Work
Human Geography
Political Sciences
Communications and Mass-media
Interdisciplinary Social Sciences/Other

Preschool and Primary Teacher Training
Lower Secondary School Teacher Training (Phil. I)
Humanities and Social Sciences/Other

Political Economy
Business Economics
Business Informatics
Interdisciplinary Economics/Other

Law

The branches of the Humanities and social sciences are defined following the Federal Statistical Office. You can find the complete document here.